From the Golf Shop ~ Jake Hanley, Certified PGA Head Golf Professional

We are starting 2013 with a great sale! You can now purchase a guest 10 pack for just $450. This is a savings of $330. Please contact me or the business office and purchase your 10 pack today.

Our TaylorMade and Ping demo days went very well and I would like to thank Phil Deimling of TaylorMade and Gene Graham of Ping and all of the members who made this a great experience. Our next demo day will be held on Saturday, March 23rd with Mizuno. The fitting and demo day will have fitting sessions from 2pm until 5pm on the simulator and drop in demo opportunities in the boardroom range during the same times.

Although the simulator is in the golf shop that does not mean that we are not selling merchandise. Save a trip to a box store and swing by the golf shop for any of your golfing needs. Remember that all members receive at least 25% off everything in the golf shop. This includes social members as well. We are able to special order product and with your member discount, you always receive a great price!

The 2013 Golf Calendar is now available on our website. www.thejeremy.com Please mark down a couple big dates such as the Ladies Invitational on July 25, 26 and 27 and the men's Round Up-Member Guest on July 10, 12, 13 and 13. You can sign up today for the men's Round Up today by emailing me at jhanley@thejeremy.com or calling me at 435.649.2700 ext. 225.

Please let me know if there is anything we can do to make your experience better as your input is always welcome and appreciated. Thank you for your continued support and I look forward to seeing you at the club soon.

Good golfing.

Congratulations!

Tom Rhoades

Utah's
Superintendent Of The Year

From the Grounds Committee Chair, Stuart Lambert

Congratulations to Tom Rhoades, Utah's Superintendent of the Year for Private Facilities. It's no surprise that Tom won this award, second time in six years. His dedication, commitment to Jeremy and his profession have proven to be one of Jeremy's greatest assets.

Last year was one of our worst winters in our club's history, thus a rough start to the season. But Tom and his team persevered and provided some of the best playing conditions in the State of Utah. Please join me in congratulating Tom Rhoades for a job well done!

As the weather starts to warm up, so does our interest in playing golf. Even though there's snow on the ground, Tom and his team continue to check the greens for ice accumulation, and at this time, we're looking good. In addition, we're in the process of preparing for the upcoming spring, clearing cart paths of snow, ordering sand, scheduling fertilize and getting ready for aerification. Lastly, we look forward to having our grounds team return for the 2013 golf season. This team worked tirelessly last year to make sure that the Jeremy standard of playing conditions returned as quickly as possible.

Like you, we're anxious to start the 2013 golf season and look forward to seeing you on the greens.

Tip from your 1st Assistant Pro, Corey Wooley: Simulator Short Game

One of the best things you can do for your golf game in the offseason is keeping your golf muscles active. There are many methods to do this, from swinging a club in the driveway a few times a day to coming out to the club and playing on our TruGolf simulator. Choosing the latter can actually enhance your game by providing thorough in-depth feedback, and have you playing better going into the 2013 season than you were exiting the 2012 season! We are striving to get the most out of our simulator, and this month's tip will have you easily lowering your scores while playing on it.

One of the main obstacles to overcome while using the simulator is visualizing the shot that you are about to hit. I have seen the most difficulty in shots between 20 and 50 yards. This shot is difficult because it requires less than a full swing, and most people don't know how hard to swing since they can't use their true depth perception – instead they are looking at a screen that loosely portrays the environment they are playing in.

The solution: Use the length of your backswing to dictate how far you hit the ball. This is easier said than done, but isn't too difficult to learn. First, you will need to make sure that you are accelerating through the ball at impact. This system only works if you are consistent with the amount of effort put forth in hitting the ball. Decelerating through the ball will usually result in hitting behind the ball or not getting the desired amount of distance. Swinging too quickly or jabbing at the ball will throw off your tempo and usually results in a shot that is hit too thin or even topping the ball. Developing a smooth tempo that has you hitting crisp pitch shots is the first step. The next step is practicing and taking note of how far the ball travels relative to how long your backswing is. I like to use the hours on the clock while teaching this method, with 6:00 being the bottom of the swing, 9:00 pointing down the target line, and 12:00 having the club positioned up and down. The picture illustrates the hours on the clock relative to the golf swing.

Putting: After rolling thousands of putts, we have established a pretty accurate measure of how far to roll the ball to get desired distances while putting on a level surface. To putt the ball 10 feet on the simulator, you will need to putt the ball so that it comes to rest on top of the ramp. For a 20 foot putt, you will need to putt the ball so that it goes up and over the ramp and comes to rest about 28 inches past it in the grass. A 30 footer will require you to hit the ball so that it comes to rest 50 inches past the ramp, and a 40 footer will nestle up against the bottom of the screen. We will have these distances marked in the simulator, and you will be free to use them for your benefit, or trust your instincts and play without them.

From The President ~ Susan Brewer

As winter is winding down, it is time to dust off those clubs and get ready for another fun filled summer of golfing. Our Spring Social is our first event. So, mark your calendars for Tuesday, May 21st. It is always fun to see those we haven't seen over the winter months. We will also have new members to welcome.

Team play begins May 9th with A-Team at Riverside Country Club and B-Team at Willow Creek Country Club. C-Team begins May 15th at Hidden Valley Country Club. If you have not played team and would like to this year, please sign up with any of the team captains listed. If you have not ordered a uniform call Kristine in the Pro Shop and see what she can do for you.

Our Tuesday 18-hole Ladies' Day and Wednesday 9-hole Ladies' Day are currently being planned by Leah Bedell and Darcy Tsandes. These Ladies' Days are a wonderful way to get involved and meet new friends.

Laurie Smith will again chair the Ladies' Invitational. If you are interested in helping on her committee please send her an email.

We hope you have taken time this winter to enjoy some of the events offered at the club: the golf simulator, Pier Bar entertainment, Yoga classes, Bingo night, and Breakfast with Santa are some of the events that have been organized for our members.

Look forward to seeing you at our Spring Social.
